EAA 932 – IAC #1 – GALT AIRPORT SEMINAR

By John Roach

Galt Airport and EAA Chapter 932 in association with the International Aerobatic Club, Northern Illinois Chapter 1 will jointly host a full day, drive-in fly-in Safety Seminar on April 23rd. Starting at 8:15 in the morning with free coffee and hangar flying and ending by 3:00 in the afternoon, so fly-in attendees can return to their home base before dark, the event will provide tips on how to make your flying safer and perhaps more fun. Of course, if you can't spend all day, you are welcome to attend any of the sessions that you are able to.

Two morning sessions will help both low and high time pilots knock off some of the winter's accumulated rust. Using materials provided by the Air Safety Foundation, Larry Schubert will lead off with Weather Tactics: an interactive tour of ATC en route and approach control facilities then a view of a general aviation flight in convective weather. The program is designed to demonstrate what pilots and controllers see and ways to work with ATC to find the best way around the weather.

Next, Eric Rittenhouse will present Fuel Awareness: tips on planning and monitoring fuel consumption as well as ways to get the most out of each gallon of fuel. Lunch will be available (or bring your own sack lunch) as a fund raiser for the Scout Venture Troop which is based at and sponsored by Galt Airport.

Two afternoon sessions will be presented by IAC, Northern Illinois Chapter 1 (and Chapter 932) members Doug Bartlett and Bob Hart. Doug's presentation, Introduce Yourself to Aerobatics, the Dos and the Don'ts, may provide a safe introduction to those seeking more thrills in their flying. Then Bob's presentation, Inadvertent Spin Recognition, Avoidance and Training, provides solid advice for all pilots. An additional attendance benefit; your attendance may qualify for the safety meeting requirement of the Wings program. For additional seminar information, email planejohn@aol.com.

WORK WEEKENDS AT OSHKOSH

With fond memories of last years Work Weekend at Oshkosh, Chapter 932 is planning two weekends this year, giving participating chapter members more flexibility in their planning. Members can plan on volunteering at Oshkosh May 20, 21, & 22 and/or June 24, 25, & 26. The trip will follow the same schedule as last year. We'll have a chapter dinner for those arriving before 7:00 pm on Friday night. EAA usually provides meals for Saturday and Sunday through noon (depending on whether they have enough workers to open their kitchen.) Last year most of us worked until noon on Sunday, although anyone who wants to come up early Saturday morning and leave Saturday night would certainly be welcome.

The work is fun (ask Dave Spitsbart about fixing the hay-raker) and volunteers are a big help to EAA in getting ready for AirVenture. There are lawns to be mowed, buildings that need minor repairs, and painting to be done. Last year, Greg and Ted Donski assembled and painted many of the stands which hold the free newspapers during the convention. The most fun however, comes in the evening. Saturday EAA usually provides a special tour of some kind. Last year we had a well guided tour of all the Pioneer airport hangars. Equally entertaining on both Friday and Saturday evenings are the tall tales and hangar flying in the Bunkhouse.

If you wish make either or both trips this year, we'll be recruiting names at the April 9th Chapter meeting. We'll need your Name, EAA Number, when you plan to arrive and depart and whether you will be driving or flying.

If you've only seen the EAA grounds during the crowds of AirVenture, you're in for a surprise – you'll get a completely different perspective!
